

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

On Sunday evenings at 8pm, starting January 18, 2009, Atlanta radio station 92.9 daveFM started airing a weekly show of live recordings from the nationally renowned music venue Eddie's Attic - located on the historic Square in Decatur GA. This hour long show features songs from approximately 10 different acclaimed and aspiring performing songwriters of varying genres each week, with background voice-over provided by Attic founder Eddie Owen. The show is co-produced by Atlanta's Crawford Communications - one of the country's premiere post-production companies.

"The show will put songs and songwriters center-stage, and highlight the authentic and sometimes magical artist/listener connection that can occur in an intimate setting", says Attic owner Bob Ephlin. Featuring multiple artists and genres will give the radio program a variety show feel: Folk, Americana, Rock, Pop, Roots, Country, Celtic, Blues, Jazz, Soul.....and most combinations in-between. Combined with a similar show that has been airing monthly on the GA Public Broadcasting network for the past year, this will now give the music of aspiring and accomplished songwriters statewide exposure.

For 17 years, Eddie's Attic has been recognized as one of the country's premiere listening rooms for acclaimed and aspiring performing songwriters. It's been the springboard for an amazing number of local artists who've gone on to receive national success - names like John Mayer, Sugarland, and Shawn Mullins. The list of nationally known talents who have played this stage is also impressive - names like, the Indigo Girls, John Gorka, Sheryl Crow, Ani DiFranco, Ed Roland, Brandi Carlile, Al Stewart, David Wilcox, Kevn Kinney, Edwin McCain, Richard Shindell, Ellis Paul, Patty Larkin, Susan Werner, Darrell Scott, Glen Phillips, Billy Joe Shaver, Pierce Pettis, Kate Campbell, Cheryl Wheeler, Marc Cohen, Cliff Eberhardt, India.Arie, and many more. Additional information on the club can be found at www.eddiesattic.com.

Boundary breaking Atlanta radio station 92.9 daveFM was created as a haven for the rock-listening adult population, and is committed to community outreach, public service, responsible programming and diversity. daveFM is also the proud flagship station of the Atlanta Falcons.
